DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-31, drawn to a tiltable-body apparatus, classified in class 248, subclass 466.
- II. Claims 32, drawn to a scanning type display, classified in class 345, subclass 7.
- III. Claims 33-37, drawn to a method of fabricating a tiltable-body apparatus, classified in class 248, subclass 560.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the patentability of the combination does not rely on the details of the subcombination defined in claims 2-31. The subcombination has separate utility such as a mechanical device or a deflecting device.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different functions; i.e. invention III displays a scanned image while invention II forms a tiltable-body apparatus.

Inventions III and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product such as a micro deflecting device.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and the fields of search are not coextensive (see "Note" below), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Note: Invention I requires at least a search in class 248, subclass 466, and class 310, subclass 40, while inventions II and III do not; Invention II requires at least a search in class 345, subclass 7, and class 359, subclass 224, while inventions I and III do not; and Invention III requires at least a search in class 248, subclass 560, while inventions I and II do not.

If invention I is elected, the following election of species is required.

The invention I contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

- (1) the species disclosed in the first embodiment;
- (2) the species disclosed in the second embodiment;
- (3) the species disclosed in the third embodiment;
- (4) the species disclosed in the fourth embodiment;
- (5) the species disclosed in the sixth embodiment;
- (6) the species disclosed in the seventh embodiment;
- (7) the species disclosed in the eighth embodiment; and
- (8) the species disclosed in the ninth embodiment.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

A telephone call was not made to the applicant to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement due to the complexity of the election/restriction requirement.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
